

hCaptcha is a variation of CAPTCHA that stands for 'human-generated CAPTCHA'. It is designed to differentiate between humans and bots by requiring users to perform certain tasks that are easy for humans but difficult for automated scripts.

It typically involves tasks such as identifying objects in images, transcribing text from images, or solving simple puzzles. These tasks help websites protect against automated attacks while also contributing to the training and improvement of machine learning models.

hCAPTCHA is an alternative to traditional text-based CAPTCHAs and aims to provide a more userfriendly and accessible experience. It helps ensure the security and integrity of online platforms by verifying human users while preventing malicious bots from accessing or abusing website functionalities.
